

CampfiresAndConcierges.com

Campfires & Concierges travel blog is geared towards a wide audience, including those who love to travel and those who love outdoor adventure activities. I share my personal travel adventures with my readers on the site through photography and story-telling, including stories about the places I visit and the unique challenges and rewards of traveling solo with a dog.

About Leigh

Leigh's adventures began at a young age as she traveled the Midwest with her father, selling Kirby vacuum cleaners door-to-door. Since that time, she has visited 49 U.S. States, 37 U.S. National Parks, and 13 countries.

In August 2017, Leigh and her Airedale Terrier left Chicago on a 4-month road trip to relocate to Tucson. Leigh is currently writing an Arizona Guide Book for Adventure Keen Publishers, releasing Spring 2020.

💡 Your post on Prescott, Arizona sold me on travelling there, and I'm an International Traveller! 💡

Reader Comment

Adventure Travel

My readers love an exciting adventure that takes them out of their comfort zone.

Luxury Travel

Adventure travel isn't synonymous with budget travel. My readers want to know which experiences are splurge-worthy.

Food & Dining

Food is an integral part of travel and my readers love hearing about food tours and the best places to eat.
